

Tree San Diego is a non-profit organization committed to improving the quantity of quality urban forest in San Diego County.

We are looking for community-minded volunteers who have an interest in service to others through helping with an important tree care project.

We have recently planted 500 trees in disadvantaged areas. Half of the trees are in the Logan Heights area of the City of San Diego and the other half in western Chula Vista. We now have the responsibility to keep these trees watered and maintained.

We cannot do this without help from forward-looking, motivated volunteers who recognize that investing in growing urban forests in underserved neighborhoods will bring significant environmental, health, economic and beautification benefits long into the future, not just to the residents, but also to the region in which we all live and work.

Each Saturday we need teams of volunteers to work two-hour shifts. The primary effort will be filling buckets with water from a truck and carrying the bucket and pouring the water on each tree. There will also be some weeding and mulching activities.

During each shift, you must be able to walk up to 2 miles and carry filled buckets a short distance from the truck to the trees.

You can see scheduled watering events and register to participate at:
